Healthcare Coverage Options & Adult Providers

Finding healthcare coverage as an adult:

Texas Health Options

(This is a great place to start learning of your healthcare coverage options.)

www.texashealthoptions.com

Texas Health Options is a comprehensive website for finding healthcare coverage, including low-cost options, and is a resource provided by the State of Texas.

You first “Select Your Profile” and then it will delineate options for healthcare coverage that best match your profile and health coverage needs.

Depending on the profile you select for yourself, Texas Health Options will suggest certain steps to take in order to get health care coverage, and it will provide more detailed information on the steps.

Some of the steps Texas Health Options may suggest might be, but are not limited to, the following:

- If you’re covered on a parent’s policy, try to continue this coverage if possible.

- Find-out if your college or university offers a student health plan. (The website lists college/university links to coverage.)

- Seek coverage through your employer (some employers offer coverage to part-time employees).

- If you’re seriously disabled, apply for Social Security Disability Income.
Supplemental Security Income (SSI)

www.ssa.gov/pubs/11000.html
1-800-772-1213 (TTY: 1-800-325-0778 if you are deaf or hard-of-hearing)
www.socialsecurity.gov/locator (Find an office closest to you at this link.)

For disability purposes in the SSI program, a child becomes an adult at age 18, and the Social Security Administration uses different medical and nonmedical rules when deciding if an adult can get SSI disability payments. For example, the Social Security Administration does not count the income and resources of family members when deciding whether an adult meets the financial limits for SSI. They count only the adult’s income and resources. They also use the disability rules for adults when deciding whether an adult is disabled.

If your child is already receiving SSI payments, the Social Security Administration must review the child’s medical condition when he or she turns age 18. They usually do this review during the one-year period that begins on your child’s 18th birthday. They will use the adult disability rules to decide whether your 18-year-old is disabled. If your child was not eligible for SSI before his or her 18th birthday because you and your spouse had too much income or resources, he or she may become eligible for SSI at age 18. If a recipient has SSI, they will also have Medicaid for healthcare coverage.

In order to learn more about SSI, go to www.ssa.gov/pubs/11000.html. It will provide comprehensive information about the program, including benefits, eligibility criteria, and the application process.

In order to prepare your SSI application, you may get “Disability Starter Kits” which provide a fact sheet, application checklist and worksheet.

Social Security Disability Income (SSDI)

www.ssa.gov/disability
1-800-772-1213 (TTY: 1-800-325-0778 if you are deaf or hard-of-hearing)
www.socialsecurity.gov/locator (find an office close to you)

An adult child also may qualify for benefits on a parent’s earnings record if he or she has a disability that started before age 22 and one of his or her parents must: be receiving Social Security retirement or disability benefits; or must have died & have worked long enough under Social Security. The recipient will also receive Medicaid coverage.
If you don’t qualify for health care coverage through options such as trying to remain on your parent’s healthcare insurance plan or obtaining coverage through an employer or college/university or if you don’t qualify for SSI/SSDI (which entitle you to Medicaid), then there are options such as:

The County Indigent Health Care Program

www.dshs.state.tx.us/ichp/default.shtm (Find your local office at this link.)

The County Indigent Heath Care Program (CIHCP) is a part of the Texas Department of State Health Services (TDSHS) and provides health care services to eligible residents through the counties, hospital districts and public hospitals in Texas. Counties are required to provide Basic Health Care Services and may elect to provide a number of TDSHS–established Optional Health Care Services.

- Parkland Healthcare System is the County Indigent Health Care Program for Dallas county residents only.

In order to learn more about the Parkland Community Health Plan, go to www.parklandhospital.com/patients_visitors/healthplan.html.

All of the clinics are funded in-part by a grant from the Texas Department of Health Services. Clinic sites are located in Amarillo, Beaumont, Fort Worth, Grapevine, Houston, Lubbock, & Lufkin. The Epilepsy Foundation Clinic also can help patients with obtaining their seizure medication at low or no cost, if they qualify.

Other Community Clinics

There are other clinics in the community which provide healthcare; however, they most often provide primary care & don’t often provide specialty care like neurology. They charge fees based on what you can afford. They may have samples of medications but often can’t provide medication assistance, especially for medications to treat a chronic condition.

You may find community clinics in your area by utilizing these resources:

- http://bphc.hrsa.gov/search_HCC.aspx - The Department of Health and Human Services’ Bureau of Primary Health Care’s Provider Locator helps find a primary care provider in your area.
- 2-1-1 Texas - Call 2-1-1 or go to www.211.org)
Prescription Assistance:

If you have no medication coverage as part of your health care coverage, there are some pharmaceutical assistance programs which may be able to provide assistance:

1-800-000-6673

Finding healthcare providers (i.e. physicians and advanced practice providers):

- If you receive Medicaid, then the Texas Medicaid and Healthcare Partnership has a “provider look-up” by which you may find primary care, neurology and other specialty providers who accept patients with your form of Medicaid and who are located close to you.

  http://opl.tmhp.com/ProviderManager/AdvSearch.aspx

- If you have another form of healthcare insurance coverage, then you may search for providers through your healthcare insurance provider. Healthcare insurance plans have various ways by which to search for a provider, which is usually via an internet search on the healthcare insurance website or by calling a 1-800 number on your insurance card.

- Also, many healthcare systems located close to you provide assistance in finding providers who are a part of their system and who accept your form of health insurance. For example, you may look-up neurologists who are associated with UT Southwestern by going to, http://www.utsouthwestern.edu/patientcare/doctor/findphysician.html
Federal and State Assistance

There are numbers and website addresses listed for each of the listed governmental resources; however, if you need your local office or additional contact information for the listed resources, call 2-1-1 Texas or go to the website www.211texas.org. 2-1-1 Texas is a program of the Texas Health and Human Services Commission. It has information for over 60,000 state & local human service programs. Information is available in more than 90 languages, and you may contact them 24 hours per day, 7 days per week.

Community Options

www.comop.org (There are 6 offices throughout the State of Texas; the numbers & contact people may be found @ this website.)

Community Options believes that every person who wants to work can work. It rejects the view that a disability means a person has to accept unemployment or below minimum wage jobs. It also rejects the view that a disability means the person must work in a sheltered workshop or a segregated work place.

Community Options is successfully placing people with severe disabilities in real jobs - at minimum wage or better. It is increasing the numbers of people with disabilities landing better jobs with better benefits in the competitive marketplace. Community Options’ technology department works with employers to adapt and apply relevant technology to enable people with disabilities to work as effectively as possible.

Guardianship & Alternatives to Guardianship

“Guardianship is a legal method used to protect a person's well-being when he or she cannot protect themselves. A guardian is a court-appointed person or entity that makes decisions on behalf of a person with diminished capacity.” Texas Department of Aging and Disability Services

A patient may only need help with certain types of decisions or activities, so s/he may not need a court-appointed guardian. For example, a patient may not be able to manage money, so a power of attorney limited to financial matters may be helpful. For certain types of government benefits, a trusted family member/friend can be appointed as representative payee to manage the money for the patient. Some patients may only need to designate someone through a durable power of attorney for health care to make decisions about health care if the patient becomes unable to do so for his/herself.

Zoo:

Private place for children and adults with special needs to come and learn about and spend time with all types of animals.
We highly advise that you start conducting research and making a plan for the total care of your child far in advance of his/her turning 18 years old. Many decisions, such as whether or not to pursue guardianship, should be made and implemented prior to your child turning 18 years old.

Furthermore, in order to ensure that there is not any lapse in your child’s medical care when he/she turns 18 years old, you will need to determine what kind of health care coverage he/she will have when he/she turns 18 years old, as well as which primary care physician and specialists (such as neurologists) will provide care when he/she becomes an adult.

We have compiled a comprehensive transition resource booklet for you which we highly recommend that you begin reviewing and which we hope is a tool for you and your child as you all prepare for his/her transition to the adulthood.

Many of these resources have websites which provide extensive information; therefore, if you do not have access to a computer, Children’s has family resource libraries which have computers you may utilize free-of-charge.

- Holman Family Resource Library – located on the Lower Level of Tower D in the main hospital at the Dallas campus; 214-456-7735; hours are 9 am – 7 pm Monday- Thursday and Friday 9:00 am – 4:00 pm. They are occasionally open on weekends; call for information.
- Pavilion Family Resource Library – located in the lobby of the Pavilion at the Dallas campus. 214-456-4787; hours are 8:00 am- 3:00 pm Monday – Friday.
- Karahan Family Resource Library – located in the lobby of the hospital at the Legacy campus. 469-303-7735; hours are 9:00 am – 7:00 pm Monday – Friday.
- Family Resource Library at the Specialty Care Center in Southlake –817-724-0004; hours are 9:00 am – 5:00 pm Monday – Friday.

If you have any questions about the resources listed in this packet, please contact Licensed Clinical Social Worker (LCSW) Stacy Roush at 214-456-7771 or stacy_rousht@childrens.com.
