

Leading Digestive Health Care

Pediatric Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition

Ranked No.10 by U.S. News & World Report for Pediatric Gastroenterology & GI Surgery

22,422 Outpatient Visits
2,000 Inpatient Visits

2017 Statistics From Dallas, Texas*

Multidisciplinary Team of Experts

19 UT Southwestern Pediatric Group physicians
14 advanced practice providers
4 GI dietitians
3 GI child psychologists
9 fellows

Game-Changing Research

60+ ongoing research studies and IRB-approved clinical trials
36 peer-reviewed publications in 2017

15 Research-based Programs and Clinics

- Childhood Celiac Disease Program
- Childhood Obesity Program
- Cystic Fibrosis Center
- Chronic Abdominal Pain Clinic
- Dallas Eosinophilic GI Diseases and Esophagitis Program (DEEP)
- Feeding Disorders Program
- General GI
- Intestinal Immunology
- Multidisciplinary Pediatric Aerodigestive Clinic (MPAC)
- Pediatric Intestinal Rehabilitation Program
- Pediatric Liver (Hepatology) Disease Program
- Pediatric Neurogastroenterology and Motility Disorders Program
- Pediatric Pancreas Disease Program
- Pediatric Therapeutic Endoscopy Program
- Southwestern Pediatric Inflammatory Bowel Disease Program

Powerful Outcomes

3,304

diagnostic and therapeutic endoscopies

<0.001%

complications associated with endoscopic procedures

80+

endoscopic retrograde cholangiopancreatographies (ERCP)

4X Winner

of the NASPGHAN Endoscopy Prize for research in pediatric endoscopy

40+

endoscopic ultrasounds (EUS)

4/5 Rating

from the Scientific Registry of Liver Transplant Recipients (SRTR)

Learn more at childrens.com/GI

children'shealth[®]
Children's Medical Center

UTSouthwestern
Pediatric Group

Specialty care provided by UT Southwestern physicians